Important: The work teams will be coming to a relatively warm climate in an area that has severe hurricane or tornado damage. Please note, however, as you gather supplies based on the following list, you may need to modify some items as the weather cools. True winter on the Gulf Coast is chilly and feels cold because of the proximity of the ocean. Thunderstorms and heavy showers occur all year round, so you may be very happy that you packed your rain gear.

Please check the weather before we leave and adjust accordingly.
